

JOYCE BULIFANT

Joyce Bulifant's extensive credits on stage, movies and TV have made her a familiar face and popular personality. Most notably, as Marie on the "Mary Tyler Moore Show" playing Gavin MacLeod's wife. Also, the film, "Airplane", a Disney Musical, "The Happiest Millionaire" and many appearances on Game Shows especially, "Matchgame".

Under contract at Universal she guest starred with Fred Astaire and on The Virginia, Destry Rides Again, Thriller and many others. Among her many TV credits are starring on Perry Mason, Gunsmoke, My Three Sons, Just Shoot Me and Weird Science. She has performed in many theatres across the United States.

Among her writing credits are two one woman shows, "My Life Upon the Wicked Stage" and, "Remembering Helen Hayes with Love" which she has performed in various theatres." The Grande Ole Dame", a musical written with her husband, Roger Perry has been performed several times as a stage reading and is soon to be given a full production.

She formed the Dyslexia Public Awareness Program and produced, wrote and directed, two musicals, "Gifts of Greatness", starring, Julie Harris, Patti Duke, Ed Asner, Danny Thomas, Stephen Cannel and the Lennon Sisters. "Different Heroes Different Dreams", which starred, Tony Danza, Helen Hayes, Judy Collins, Barbara Eden, and Jack Warden among others. The videos of these productions have traveled worldwide and she was invited to meet the Queen of Spain.

Miss Bulifant is the executive vice president of The Dyslexia Foundation; she has served on many boards and founded an Advocacy Center in Colorado for abused children.

"My Four Hollywood Husbands", a book written by Miss Bulifant has received excellent reviews from readers across the US and Europe. This has led to many speaking engagements and TV interviews regarding the book and her extensive career.

Her greatest joy is her family and working with children.